New Book Series: Palgrave Advances in Sex Work Studies

Welcome to the Palgrave Advanced Series in Sex Work Studies!

Angela Jones, Elena Shih, and Teela Sanders would like to introduce you to a new book series that aims to make space for sex worker voices in academic press.

This series takes a broad and interdisciplinary view of the sex industry, prioritizing transnational and intersectional work and marginalized sex workers. It seeks to center underrepresented groups such as Black, Indigenous, and other people of color; transfeminine, transmasculine, and non-binary people; LGBTQIA+ sex workers; people with disabilities; and workers outside of the US and UK. Books in the series cover a wide range of sex industries, including camming, full-service sex work in a range of contexts e.g. street-based, brothel work, and escorts), hostessing, phone sex, pornography, pro-dommes, stripping, sugar relationships, and other forms of individual sexual entrepreneurship online. They are seeking work that is attentive to lateral whorephobia, which points to the privileges of certain forms of sex work over others and how sex workers practicing privileged forms of erotic labor often look down upon workers in more stigmatized sectors. This series also discusses criminal legal approaches to sex work and seeks titles that explore the complexities and wide range of sex worker experiences in the whorearchy to reflect the multiple positions, experiences, and perspectives of those within the sex work community.

We encourage anyone who has an interest in publishing to get in contact with us. In the interim, you can find information about submitting a proposal here.

We are seeking from the publishers payment for sex worker authors as well as offering various kinds of mentorship and buddying possibilities for those new to academic writing.
